THE RAYMOND LION

The Lion's summer recess is over and normal activities will begin in September. A big year for Raymond Lions has just closed — and a very successful one — thanks to the immediate Past President Rayo Woolf. We are looking forward to a bigger program under the leadership of our new President, Arlidge Hill. We will have to step on it if we are to keep up with the other Lions groups. There are over 420,000 Lions in 8,765 clubs in 31 countries and during the past twelve months they have completed 116,276 separate projects.

The Lions are known and esteemed throughout the world because of the number and importance of their activities. Each year sees their constructive activities reach a new high in number and scope — a result of the care with which the individual Lions Clubs are organized, membership selected, and activities planned and carried out.

Lions Clubs are the only clubs with a complete community activities program. They are interested in every opportunity for unselfish service to the community, and to this end, their activities are grouped under ten headings:

Agriculture — Boys and Girls — Education — Citizenship and Patriotism — Civic Improvements — Community Betterment — Health and Welfare — Safety — Sight Conservation and Blind — United Nations.

The Lions Clubs therefore presents an unrivalled medium through which every civic minded, public spirited individual may serve in the particular field in which he is most interested.

The greatest field of Lions endeavor is in connection with Community Betterment, Health and Welfare, and Boys and Girls. In no less than 49,554 instances, Lions Clubs last year carried out projects making their community more attractive, more active commercially, better known and better places in which to live. The list of good deeds done by members of Lions Clubs, who are just plain every-day folks like you and me, is enough to warm the heart of the hardest cynic.

Young Robert Anderson returned this week from visiting friends in Portland, Oregon and Wala Wala, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Walker accompanied by Mrs. Lizzy Hansen, Mrs. Ralph Walker and sons Roger and Ramsey motored to Banff and Lake Louise last week. The two boys were thrilled to catch a glimpse of a black bear and a deer in the mountains; and the rest of the party with the beautiful scenery.

They Enjoyed Their "Train Ride"

The Fourth Ward Home Builders and Trail Builders of the Primary enjoyed an unusual "Train Ride" last Thursday on the Stake House grounds under the direction of Margurite Anderson, Martha Woolley, Lillis McGilvary and Mrs. Christensen.

After a delicious lunch the children boarded their make-believe train and travelled to various cities, playing a game at each place. When they arrived back home Mrs. Jean Rolfsen told them a true story followed by prayer and "Taps".

Stake Board members, Mesdames Spackman, Zaugg and Peritt, as well as the children's parents were present.

Vede Gilchrist Honored At Farewell

A Farewell Service was held in the Fourth Ward Sunday evening for Vede Gilchrist who reports on September 10th at the Mission Home in Salt Lake prior to leaving for the French Mission.

C. R. Wing of the Missionary Committee conducted the following program.

Job Lewellyn of Lethbridge, a long time friend of the family, was the first speaker followed by a duet by Mr. and Mrs. James E. Harker. T. Geo. Wood spoke briefly after which Kathy Leshman, from Cardston, sang a solo and then Vede expressed his thankfulness for the opportunity of going on a mission. Mrs. Gilchrist spoke briefly after her son and Bishop Snow made a few closing remarks. One of Vede's uncles, Heber Harker of Cardston, offered the benediction.

Last Tuesday evening the Fourth Ward Mutual enjoyed an outing at the Magrath Pot Hole. After working up an appetite playing games directed by Wilson Rolfsen, they sat around the campfire devouring hot dogs, pop and such.

A program directed by Hazel Rebackin was next with the Bee Hive Girls presenting a Skit followed by a duet by Dawn Mendenhall and Margaret Stone. Hazel read a Gazette, including many of the people present in it, after which VI Meeks and the Bee Hive Girls sang a couple of hilarious songs complete with actions learned at the recent summer camp.

The evening was completed with the singing of a few old favorites led by Bertha Stone.

27th Wedding Annivers'y Celebrated

About thirty guests gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Petrak on the occasion of their twenty-seventh wedding anniversary. Songs, dancing and humorous stories were enjoyed with everyone contributing to the fun. Don's Public Address System provided extra music and fun.

The evening's entertainment was brought to a close with a lovely lunch at which time a huge cake was cut providing lots for everyone.

Mr. and Mrs. Petrak were the recipients of many lovely gifts and received congratulations from friends in Magrath, Raymond, Lethbridge and Calgary.

Local Boy Participates In Govt. Test

Thurston Smith who is in the Medical branch of the RCAF stationed in Edmonton has been chosen to be one of a group of doctors to take an endurance test for the Government in the north. They have parachuted down in the wilds 200 miles north of Edmonton with no provisions and will remain there for a week before being picked up. The purpose of the test is to determine how long a person could live under such circumstances and their condition on each succeeding day.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lund of Scottsdale, Arizona are enjoying a visit with their family. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kenney, Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Meldrum and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lund. While here they are the guests of another brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ralph.

Canadian Culture Society Reorganized

The Sewing Department of the Canadian Culture Society spent a very profitable and enjoyable day on Monday, August 27, under the direction of Miss Helen Moseson of the Department of Agriculture. She is the sewing instructor at Olds.

There were nineteen ladies present and six portable sewing machines for their use.

The class was re-organized with Della Woolfe as Supervisor, Alice Powelson, President and Velma Bigelow as Secretary.

These classes will be held one Monday of each month with capable teachers on hand to give instructions. Anyone wishing to join is invited to contact a member of the executive.

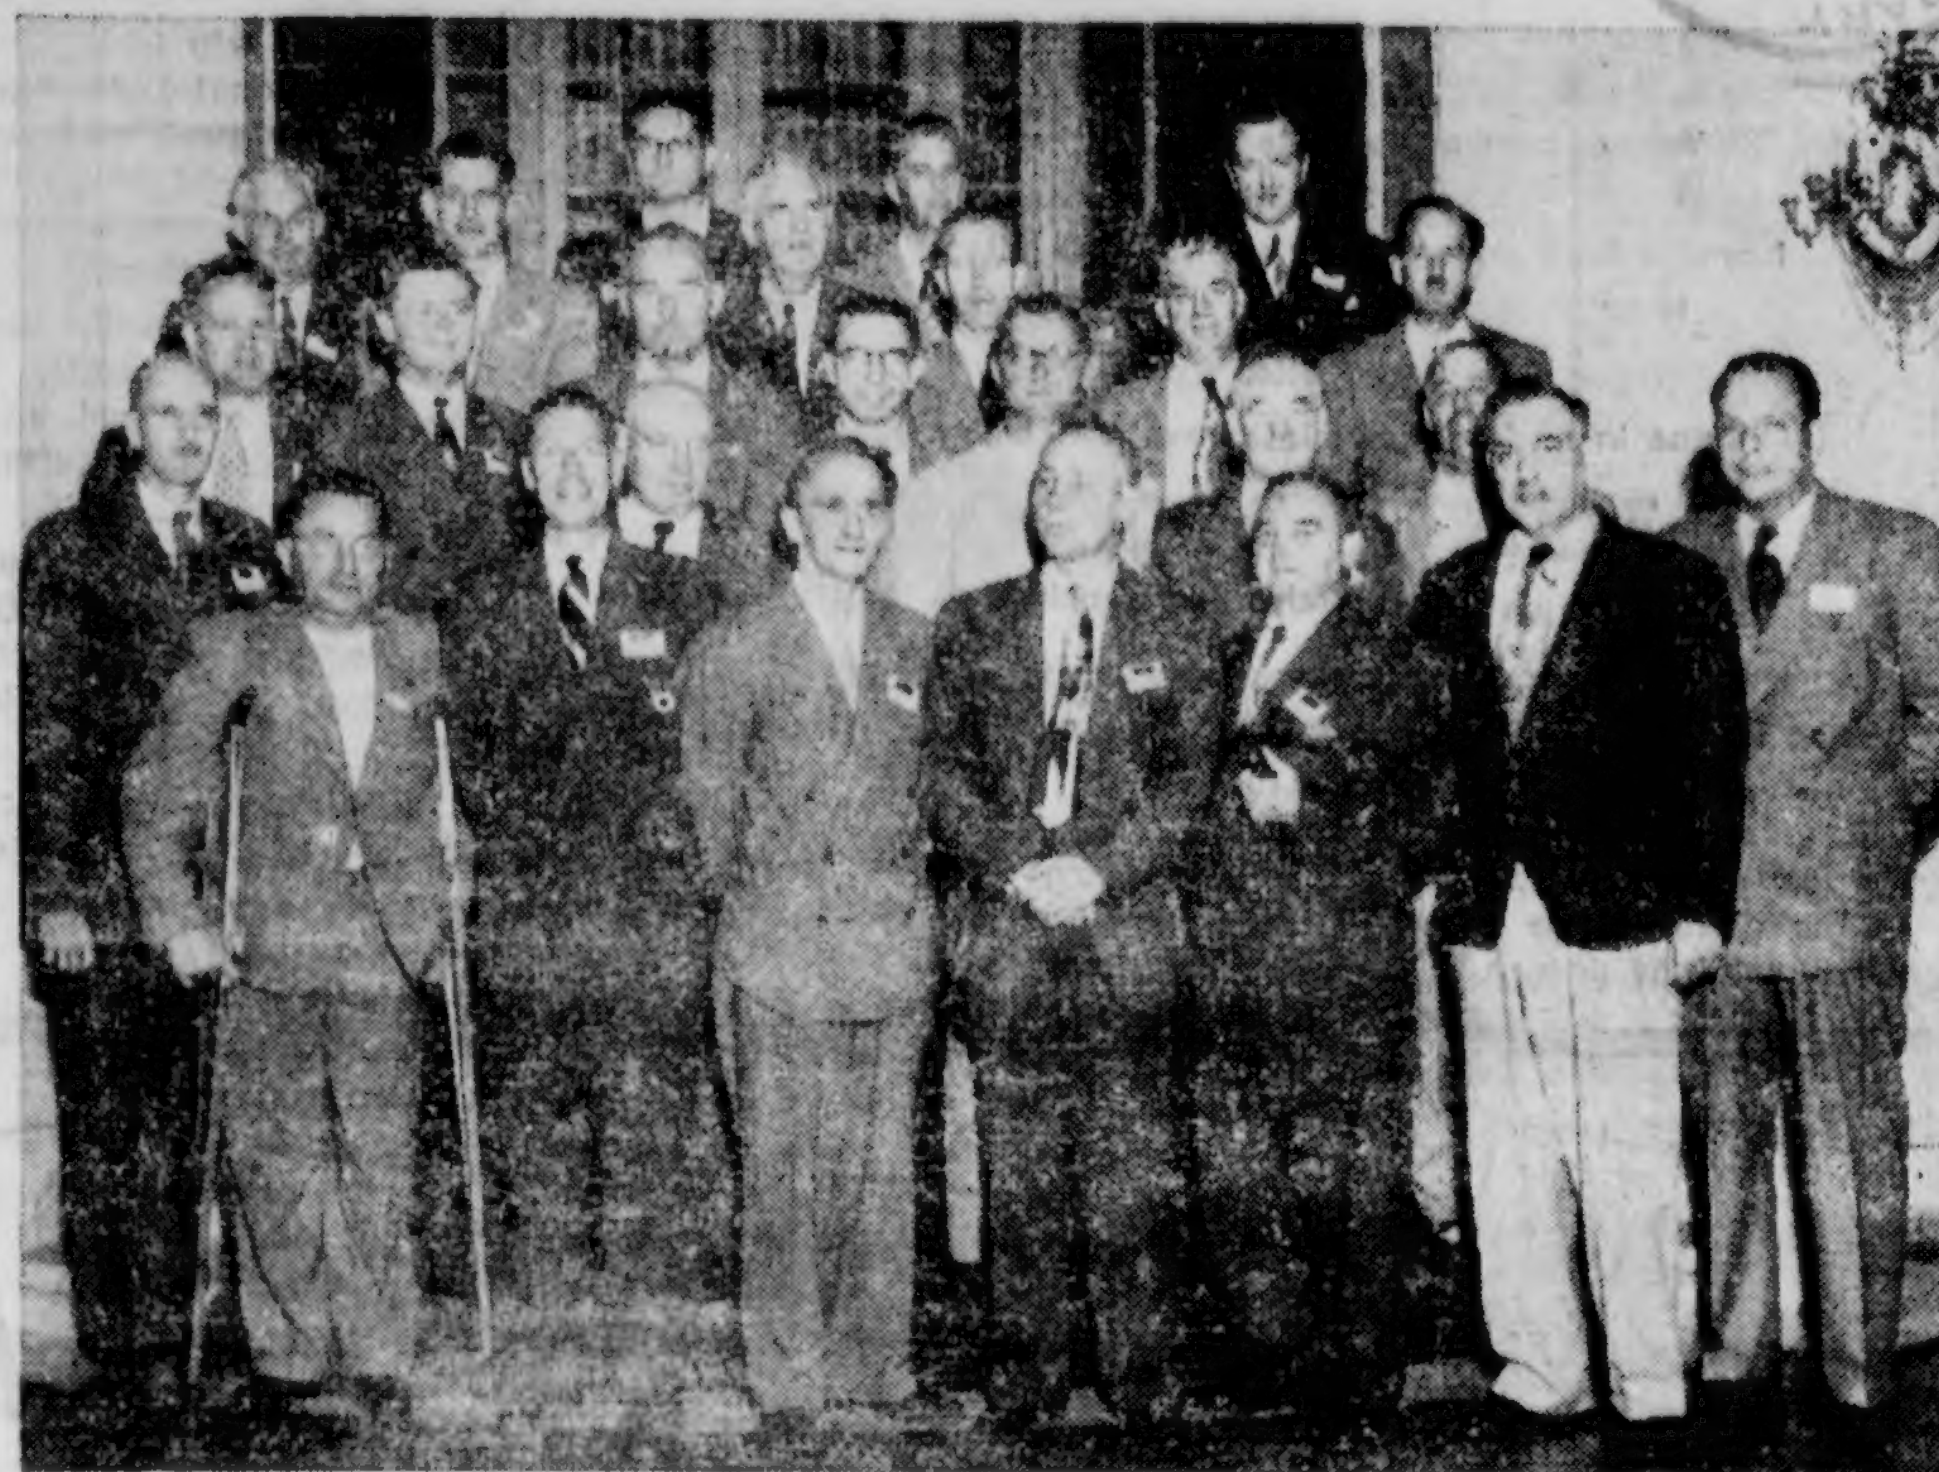

Miss Moseson taught the ladies the art of quilting on a machine, corded seams, embroidery on the machine, suit collars and sleeves, zipper openings, fancy designs for bound pockets, shirt sleeve openings, looped buttonholes, mitered corners, smocking and blind hemming on the machine with no attachment.

It is the hope of the Society to have Miss Moseson back again next year.

Stake House Is Scene Of Holmes-Harding Nuptials

Marriage vows were exchanged Wednesday evening in the Stake Relief Society Room between Alice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Holmes, and Leonard, son of Mr. E. S. Harding and the late Mrs. Harding of Taber. Bishop Hicken officiated.

The bride and her father entered the flower bedecked room to the strains of the Wedding March played by Mrs. Ellen Winkler, at seven thirty o'clock. During the signing of the Register, Laurie Harker sang "O Perfect Love".

The bride was radiant in a gown of heavy white satin designed with a net yoke giving an off-the-shoulder effect, and a bouffant skirt caught up with flowers to reveal dainty rows of lace. The lovely finger tip veil misted from a wreath of orange blossoms, and a bouquet of red roses was carried in her arms.

Jean and Joan Holmes as Bridesmaids and Evelyn Evans as Flower Girl were gownned in blue brocaded satin with matching tiera and short veils, and carried colonial bouquets of mixed flowers. The groom's brother was Best Man.

Corsages of red roses complimented the gowns of the Bride's mother and the Groom's sister, Miss Madge Harding.

A Reception honoring the newlyweds was held at eight thirty in the Amusement Hall which too was gay with many colorful flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Rayo Woolf welcomed the guests at the door and Delores Scoville, Lois Peterson and Sylvia Piegrass accepted and arranged the numerous gifts, while Betty Evans presided at the Guest Book. Gil Evans and Ira McBride were ushers.

ALBERTA'S SCHOOL TEACHERS

Alberta's Department of Education is progressive — it has shown leadership in many ways, not the least of which is the enlarged school districts, with the many efficient consolidated schools.

The teaching profession is big business. Last year Alberta paid over fourteen and a quarter million dollars in salaries for this important work — an investment in good citizenship. Not all of our children go to regular schools — there are over ten thousand studying by mail through a specialized correspondence school which reaches the physically handicapped, as well as children living in isolated districts. Alberta is unique, in that trained personnel as monitors have constantly guided the education of our youngsters throughout the teacher shortage during the war, and since.

The little red schoolhouse will eventually join the horse-and-buggy of happy memory, for the school bus and consolidated school are taking over . . . but it will always be symbolic of rural education and teaching stamina.

The bells will soon ring out in every city, town and country school in Alberta . . . When we give our departing children a pat on the head, let's reserve a pat on the back for the fine men and women waiting to take them over for the coming school year.

Calgary Power salutes the Alberta School Teachers at the start of another school term.

It's back to school Tuesday morning for six thousand adults. They are the teachers of Alberta's one hundred and sixty-eight thousand school-age children, and they share with the youngsters mixed feelings of hope and apprehension for the days which lie ahead.

There's one thing about teaching children . . . life rarely becomes hum-drum. Daily contact with the young of the human family brings such a measure of challenge, triumph and worry that it sharpens the mental reflexes.

Excitement's in the air! Mother's busy getting school clothes spic and span, the kids are having a last fling at freedom, while Dad braces himself for the usual morning scuffle in the bathroom . . . and six thousand teachers are hoping for an average class of bright, disciplined children, all eager to learn their lessons . . . The crisp September air fosters such optimistic delusions!

What mystical compulsion turns a man or woman to teaching, with its constant drain on mental and physical resources, heavy responsibilities and small salary? The answer is first, a liking for young people, — then an inquiring and knowledgeable mind, — and third, the zest to impart learning. And the reward? — well, there's that boy or girl who may become an outstanding citizen — and also there's the apple often left on teacher's desk.

ALBERTA SUGAR KEPT THEM SO

Look ahead now to the long winter months. Think how winter-weary appetites would respond to the fresh, full flavour of home-made plum jam! Now is the time to make it — and Alberta Sugar the preservative to use. Alberta Sugar has double action in all home preserving: it prevents spoilage and discoloration, it also brings out the full flavour of fruits and vegetables. No other method of preserving can equal the success story of sugar. So, take advantage of the plum season now — and specify Alberta Sugar in your favourite size.

PLUMS ARE RIPE!

A Letter from the President
Of the Provincial Command
Of the Canadian Legion

Dear Sir:

It would be appreciated if I, as the Provincial President of the Canadian Legion in Alberta, could through your columns give my opinion of the conditions existing at the present in respect to Basic Pensions and War Veterans Allowance.

At the last two Dominion Conventions of the Canadian Legion, held in Saskatoon in 1948 and in Winnipeg in 1950, resolutions were passed urging the Dominion Government to take action to remedy the deplorable position in which small pensioners and recipients of War Veterans Allowance find themselves today, but it is regrettable to state that the Government up to this time has failed to amend the respective acts.

It is quite true that, at the session of Parliament just concluded, a vote of two million dollars as an unemployment supplement was passed, but as this affects only a small number of those that require aid it has not solved the main problem.

The cost-of-living index is now at 187, but the recipients of pensions and of War Veterans Allowance are still on the same basic rate without any increase in either pensions or allowances.

A single man who is in receipt of War Veterans Allowance receives a basic rate of $40.43. A married man receives a basic rate of $70.83. If he is industrially unemployable he may apply for an additional allowance of ten dollars per month. On this allowance he is expected to pay rent, light, heat and fuel, to clothe himself and his wife and out of the remainder buy groceries sufficient to keep body and soul together. This Sir, is a financial and economical impossibility. These men are not living but merely existing, existing in a country as rich as Canada, and existing in a country that was served to the best of their ability when the country was in dire need of their help.

It should not be hard to imagine that the Government's disregard of the plight of the small pensioner and the recipient of the W.V.A. is, to some extent, the reason for the reluctance of men to enlist in the armed forces.

I do not hesitate to say that the re-habilitation program that the Government set out at the conclusion of the last war has proven to be the best in the entire world and ex-servicemen appreciate this to the fullest extent. However nothing can justify the lack of Government action in respect to the class of people who are now suffering and for whom no steps have been taken to keep their living conditions on a level of what they were even in 1945.

I have written this letter to again bring to the attention of your readers the plight in which many servicemen find themselves today, with the hope that individuals and organized groups of people throughout the country will take an interest in this matter and bring it to the attention of their elected representatives.

Yours truly,

George E. Gleave,
President,
Provincial Command

Since Jan Peerce is giving "little boys" a lot of publicity these days we thought it only fair to say a few nice things about

What is a Girl?

Little girls are nicest things that happen to people. They are born with a little bit of angel-shine about them and though it wears thin sometimes, there is always enough left to lasso your heart — even when they are sitting in the mud, or crying temperamental tears, or parading up the street in mother's best clothes.

A little girl can be sweeter (and badder) oftener than anyone else in the world. She can jitter around, and stomp, and make funny noises that frazzle your nerves, yet just when you open your mouth, she stands there demure with that special look in her eyes. A girl is innocence playing in the mud, Beauty standing on its head, and Motherhood dragging a doll by the foot.

Girls are available in five colors — black, white, red, yellow, or brown, yet Mother Nature always manages to select your favorite color when you place your order. They disprove the law of supply and demand — there are millions of little girls, but each is as precious as rubies.

God borrows from many creatures to make a little girl. He used the song of a bird, the squeal of a pig, the stubbornness of a mule, the antics of a monkey, the spryness of a grasshopper, the curiosity of a cat, the speed of a gazelle, the slyness of a fox, the softness of a kitten and to top it all off He adds the mysterious mind of a woman.

A little girl likes new shoes, party dresses, small animals, first grade, noise makers, the girl next door, dolls, make-believe, dancing lessons, going places, ice cream, kitchens, coloring books, make-up, cans of water, tea parties, and one boy. She doesn't care so much for visitors, boys in general, large dogs, hand-me-downs, straight chairs, vegetables, snow suits or staying in the front yard. She is loudest when you are thinking, the prettiest when she has provoked you, the busiest at bedtime, the quietest when you want to show her off, and most flirtatious when she absolutely must not get the better of you again.

Who else can cause you more grief, joy, irritation, satisfaction, embarrassment, and genuine delight that this combination of Eve, Salome, and Florence Nightingale? She can muss up your home, your hair, and your dignity — spend your money, your time, and your temper — then just when your patience is ready to crack, her sunshine peeks through and you've lost again.

Yes, she is a nerve-wracking nuisance, just a noisy bundle of mischief. But when your dreams tumble down and the world is a mess — when it seems you are pretty much of a fool after all — she can make you a king, when she climbs on you knee and whispers, "I love you best of all!"

Mr. Reed Holman and his brother Vilas motored to Raymond last week to join Mrs. Reed Holman who has been visiting at the S. B. Cards the past weeks.

They returned home to Portland, Oregon Monday morning.

The Friendship Club met at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Nielson last Wednesday at which time Nona Bourne reviewed an article on "The Need For Affection".

A delicious lunch was served at the close of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Finch and Teddy and Corrine have returned from their month long vacation in the U.S. where they visited with many relatives in Boise, Salt Lake, Portland and Seattle. One of the highlights of the trip for Mr. Finch was meeting a brother he hadn't seen for twenty years.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Jack Evans entertained a few friends at a Rook Party with Mr. and Mrs. Mel Depey taking top score and Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Ackroyd consolation.

A very tasty lunch was served by the hostess.

Miss Carol Hervey celebrated her sixth birthday on Tuesday with a party for her and her friends. It is debatable which was more popular the games or the cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Murray of Dolphin, Manitoba, who were on their way home from visiting in Vancouver, were guests at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Zobell and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Attwood last Thursday and Friday.

Mr. Murray is the brother of Mrs. Attwood and Mrs. Zobell.

When Mrs. Mike Rebalkh returned home from Church Sunday morning she was very pleasantly surprised to find not only their good friends Mr. and Mrs. Pete Makortoff of Vulcan, but two delectable looking chickens roasting in the oven.

The visit was enjoyable and the chicken delicious.
